FOREWORD

He's everywhere! He might be lurking on a street corner, strolling in the school corridors, or even in a school room. You ask who he is. Don't you recognize the winged boy with bow and arrow, the little fellow who played a major part in the thrilling experiences of this 1940 Waite Leap Year? That's right—you guessed it—Cupid.

He found, from autumn to spring, everyone from the heroes of the gridiron to the meekest Freshman hanging languorously around the lockers of the fair sex, chatting lightly about affairs of Waite. What did he do? He raised his bow and shot his arrow into many eager hearts, making all social events gay and vivacious and life more interesting for his victims.

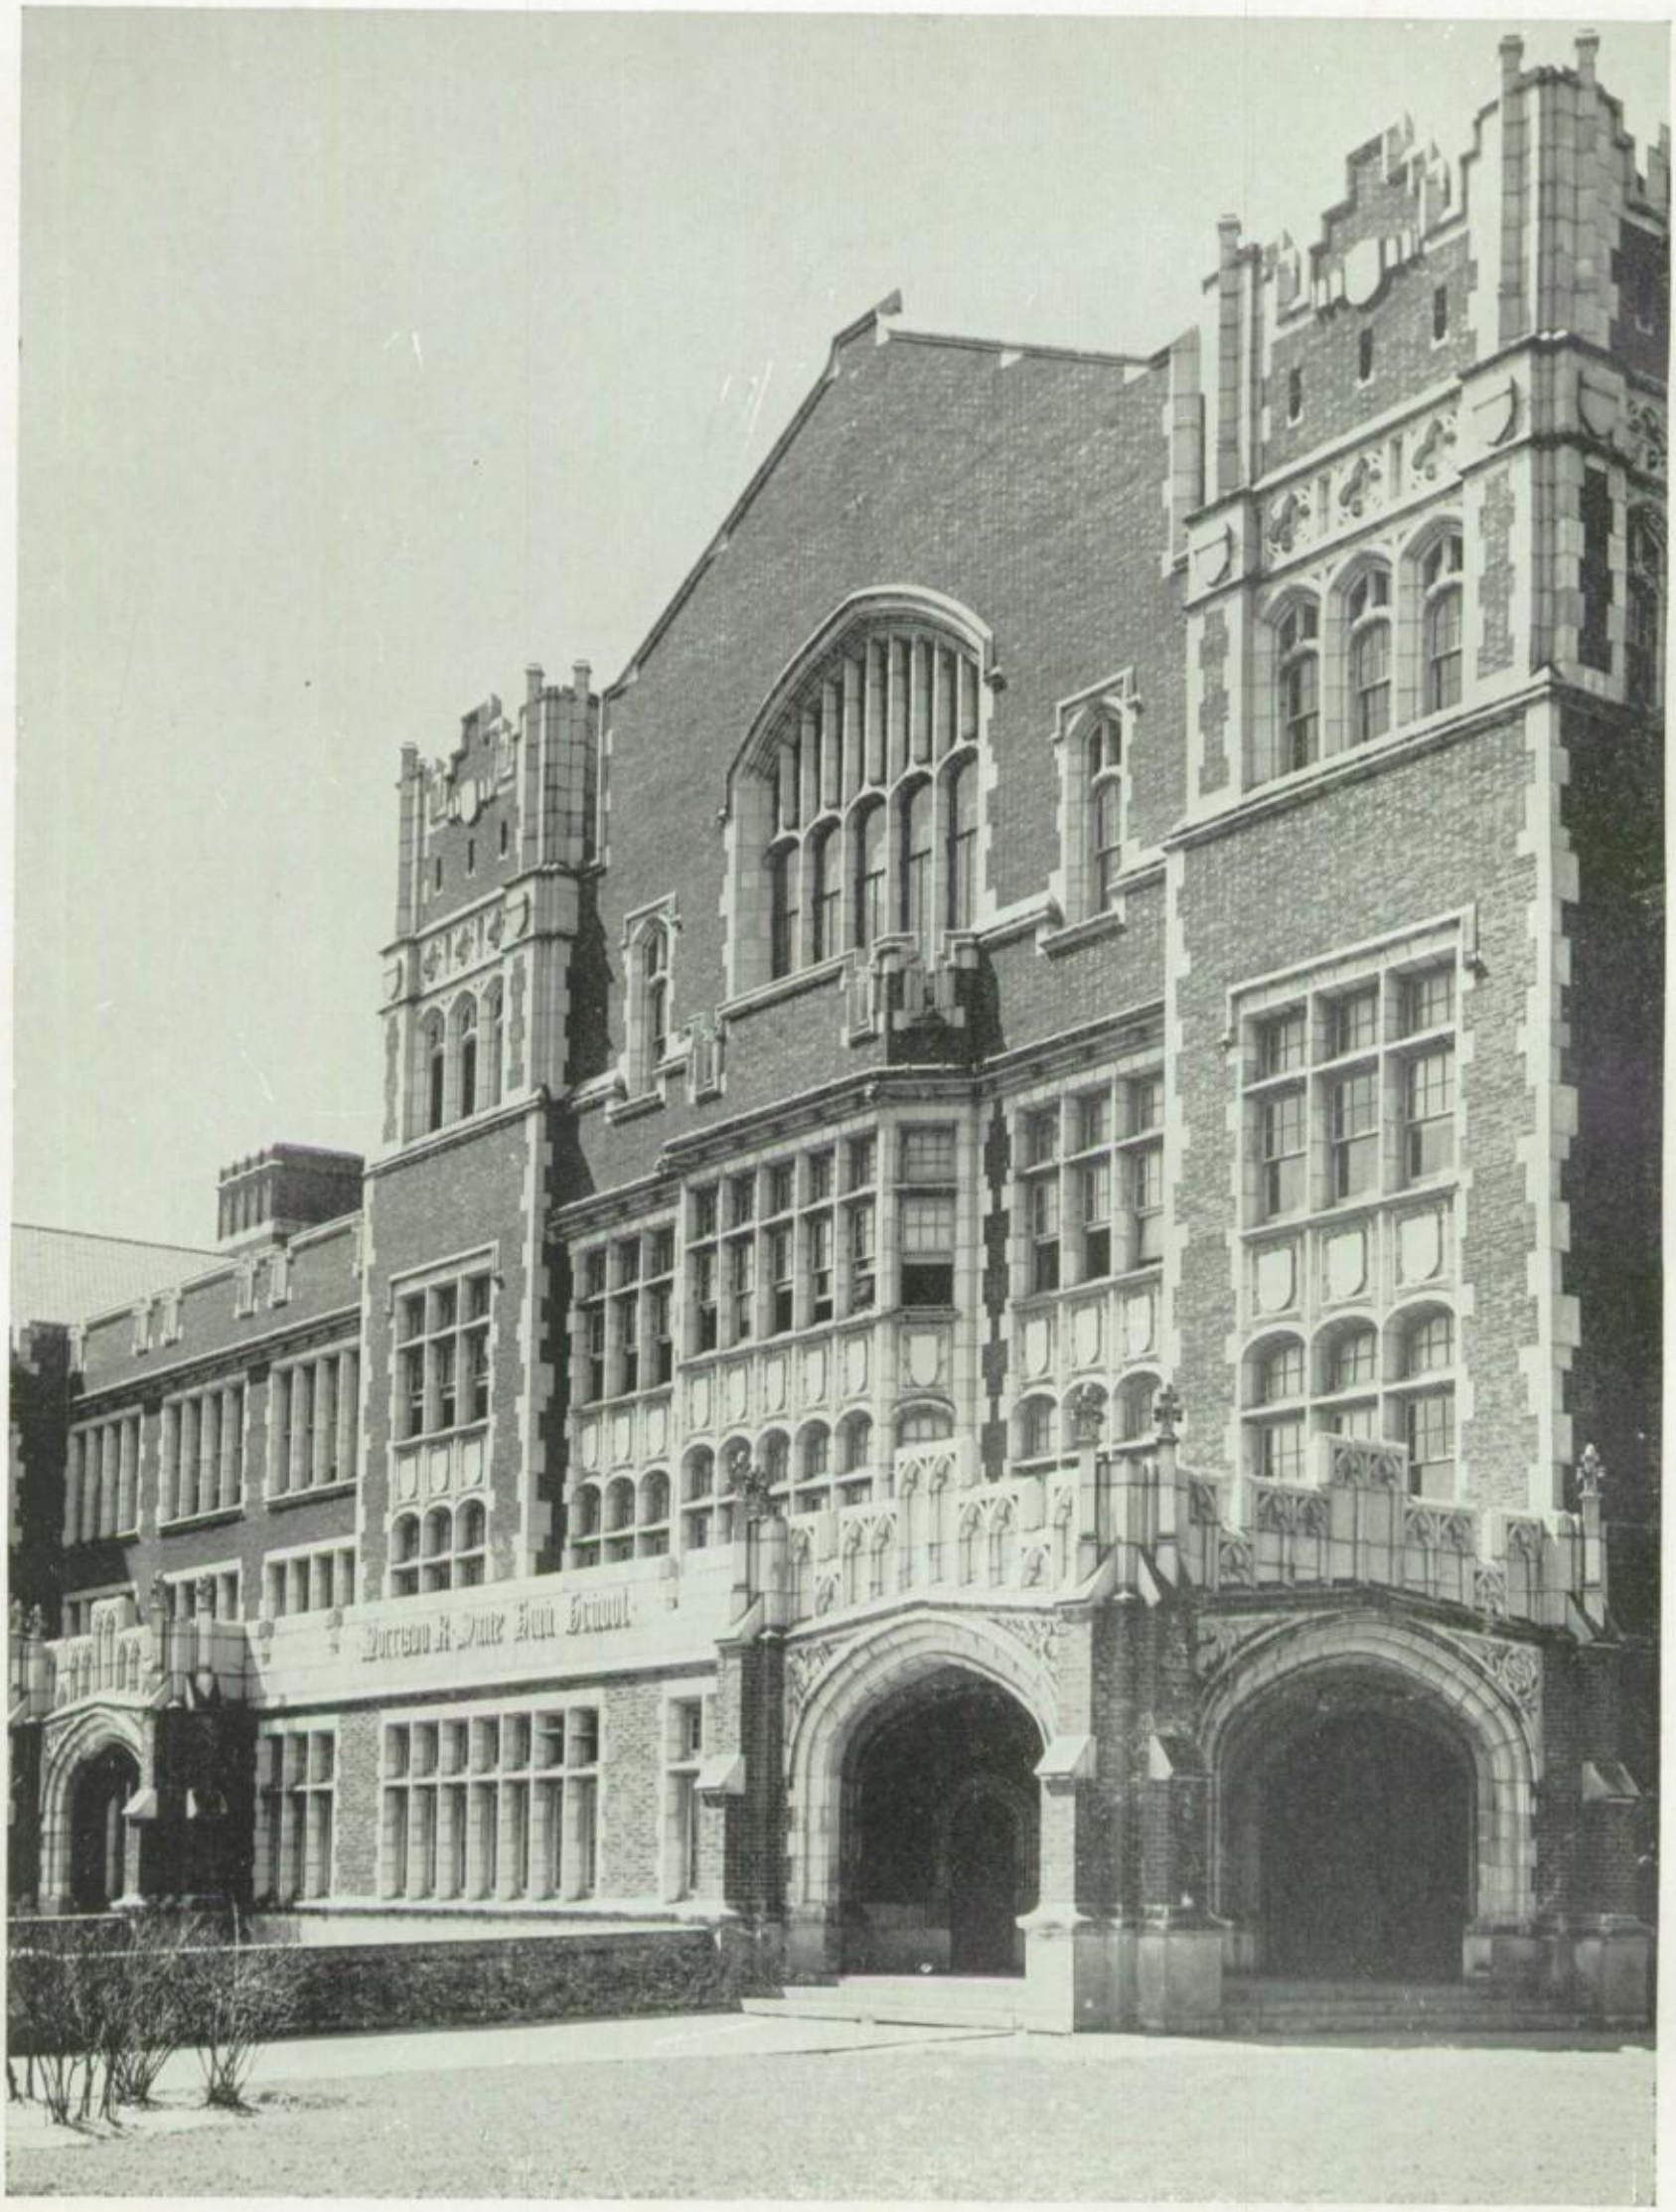
The invaluable delights of these happy months unfold in the 1940 Purple and Gold, pictorially and editorially, to bring smiling memories of days that have gone but are not forgotten.

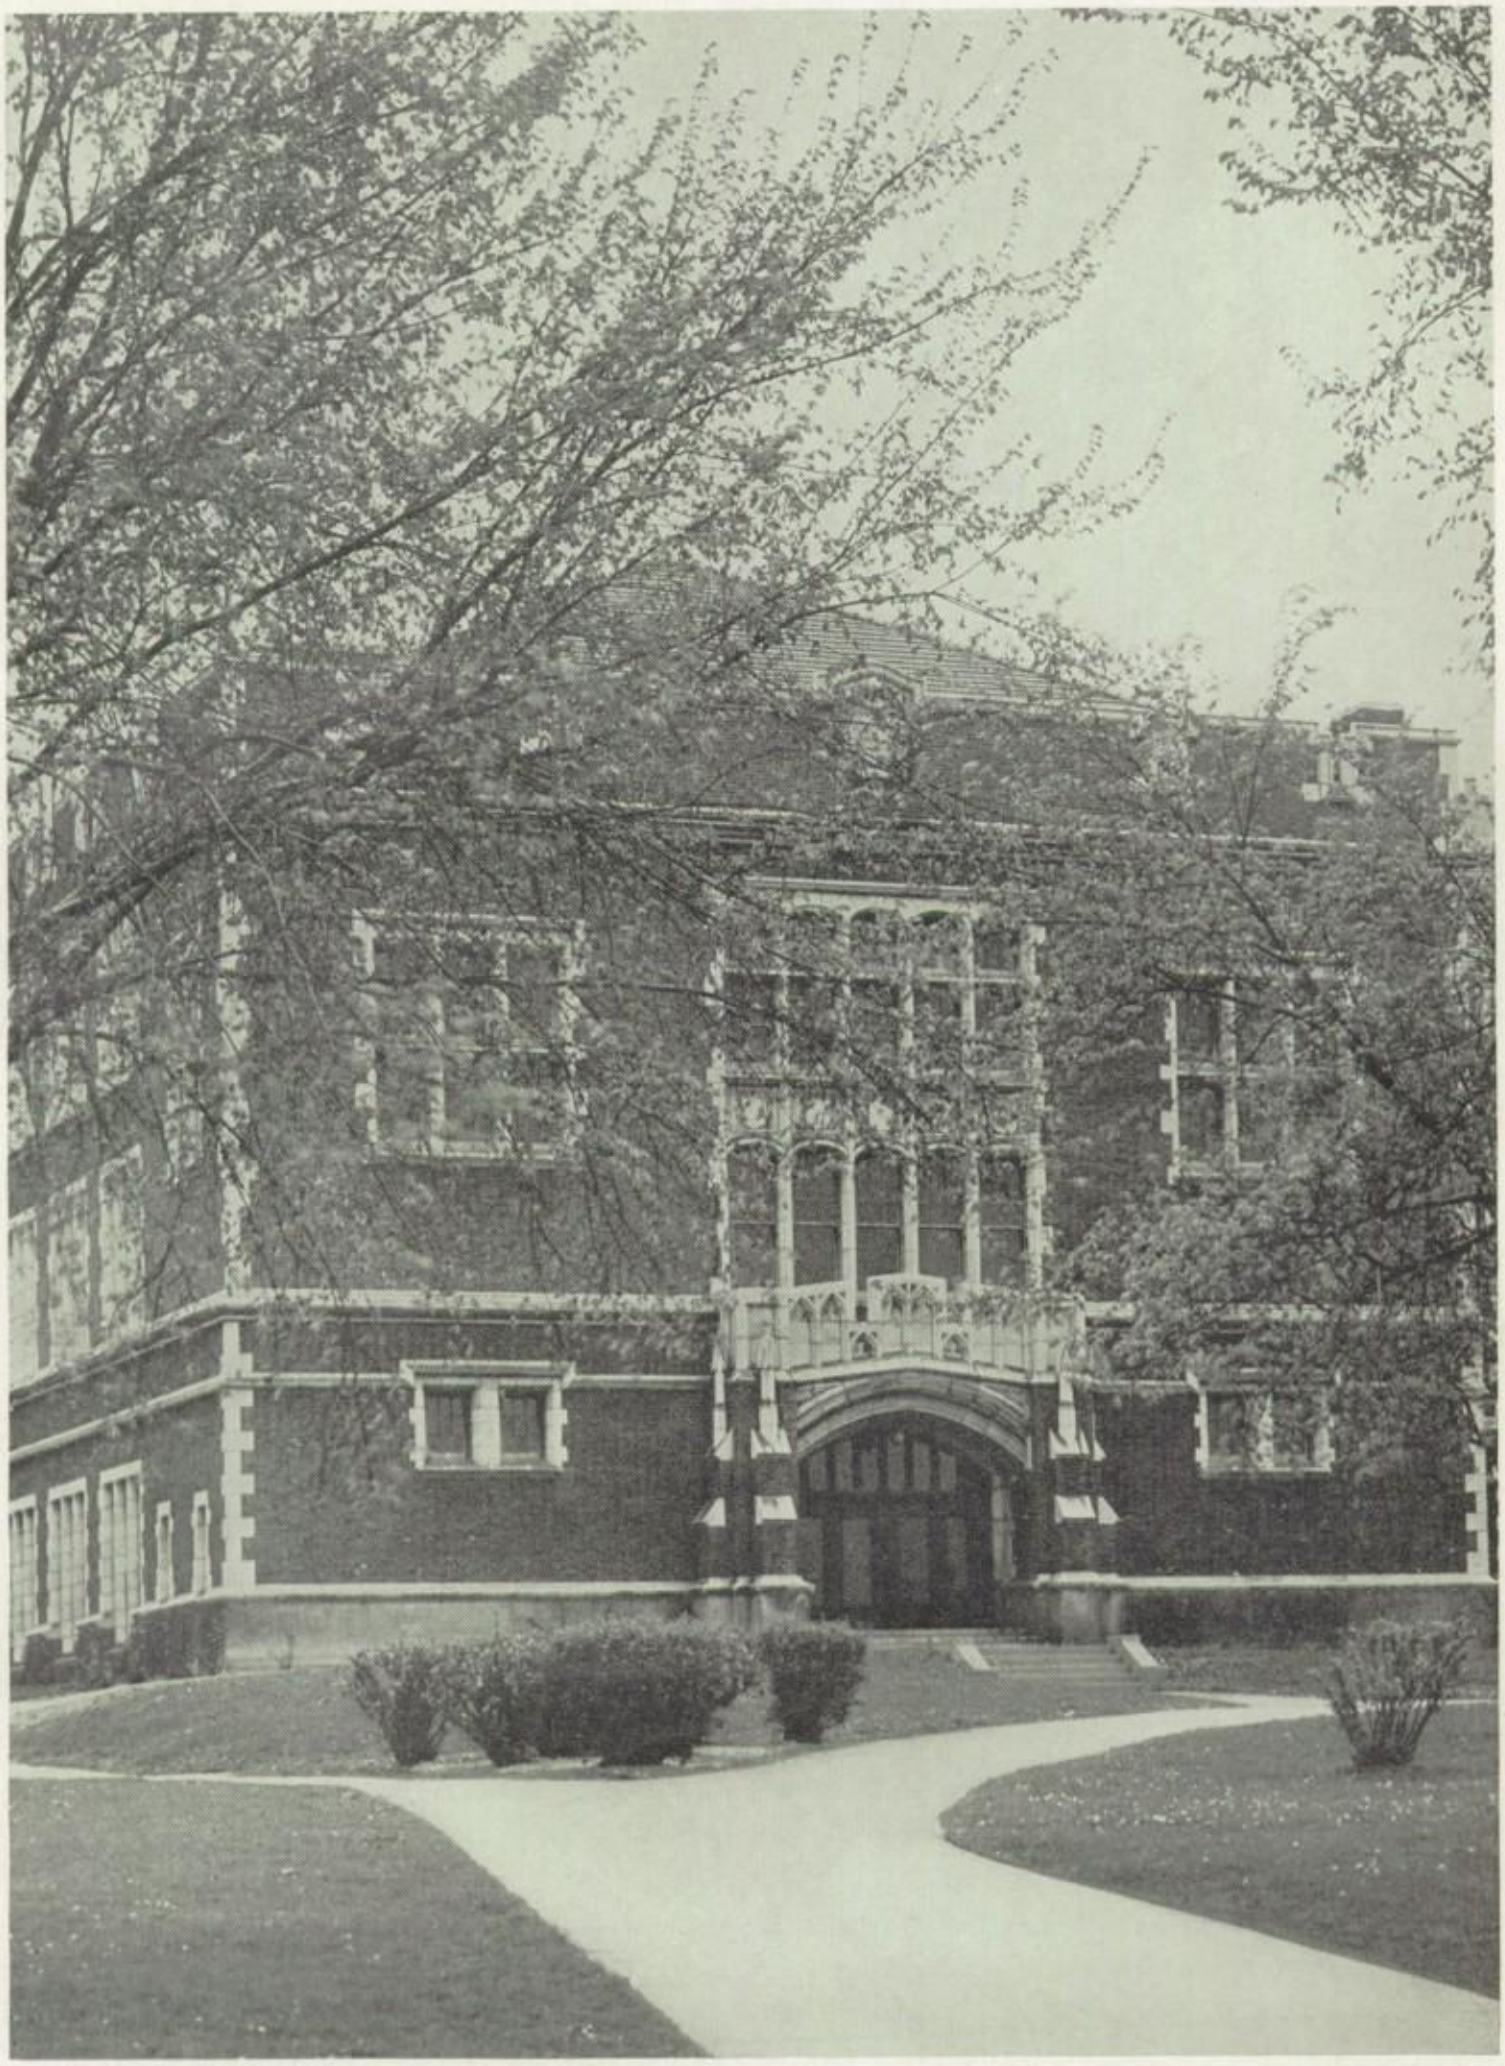
DEDICATION

TO MISS LULU HOWARD

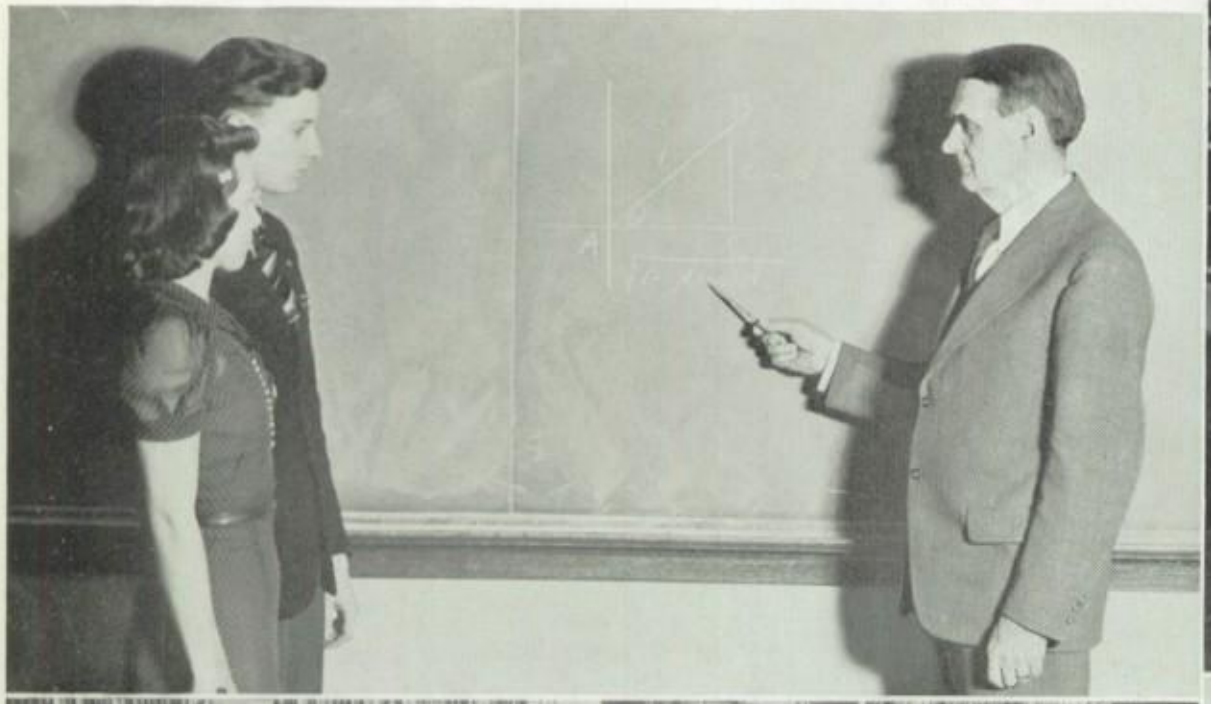
"Still waters run deep." Under a natural reserve there flows a warm, deep interest in boys and girls. A passion for learning, particularly in science and history, linked with a love of travel has given zest to her teaching and inspiration to students. Her intense loyalty and generosity may be known only to close friends, but many a student befriended by her knows that no effort is too great for Miss Howard if only it will help some one. To Waite High School for years her sterling character, wide interests and steady, quiet influence have been a tower of strength.

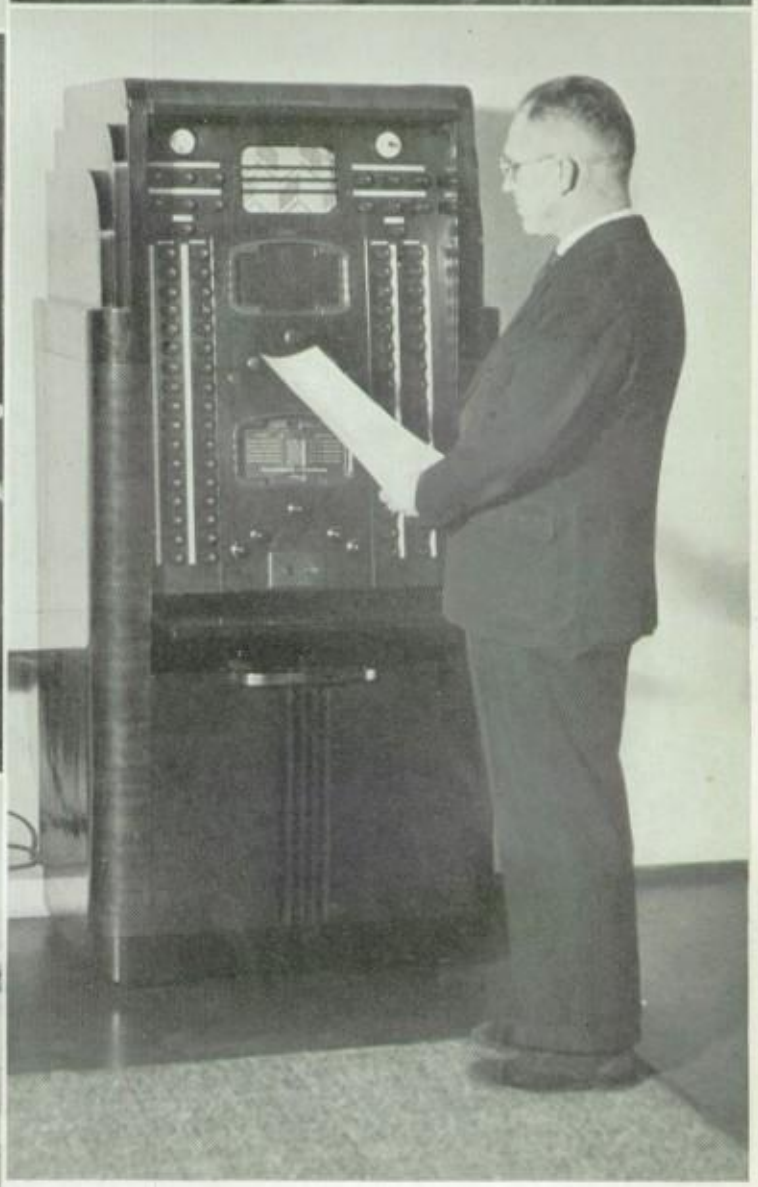
With these words of tribute and in all sincerity, we, the staff, dedicate to Miss Lulu Howard the 1940 edition of the Purple and Gold. Her hustling figure has been a familiar sight as she has efficiently performed her duties as a teacher in Waite High School and has acted as Dean of Freshmen and Sophomore girls. Miss Howard is a friend to all and we shall cherish her pleasantness, scholarship, and wisdom for many years to come.





"Through these portals we pass on to the high roads and by roads of Life's trodden path."





Mr. Mathias explains a difficult problem to Marie Nelson and John Lorann.
A typical hour in the library.

Miss Nelson checks up on credits with Marjorie Crawford.
Every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday morning we find Mr. Conser at the loud speaker ready to read the morning announcements.

The Senior year is indeed a busy one. Darlene Magaska, Ken Cannon, Roy Cook, Ann Sekerka, and Steve Werkman look over the Senior announcements on display in the trophy case.

Waite is proud of her new football trophies. Coach Mollenkopf, Paul Beach, Coach Pauly, Bob Hecklinger, Jack Martin, Ross Isel, and Coach Dunn helped bring them to Waite.

MR. PHILIP H. CONSER, PRINCIPAL

ADMINISTRATION

This is the twenty-sixth year for our own Waite High School, and eleven of these 26 years Mr. Philip Conser has been our principal. He supervises our school in every right way possible and is ready to answer puzzling questions and settle knotty problems for anyone who wishes help. His kindly and understanding character guides the students to do the right things and makes them want to mend some of their poor habits and attitudes.

The faculty, as well as the student body, secures his full coöperation. Besides his busy life outside of school, he arranges special programs of educational value for the students and presides over all faculty meetings.

We, as the staff, are deeply grateful to Mr. Conser for the inspiration and guidance that he is to the students.

OFFICE FORCE

In the office of our school, we have three very capable workers, Miss Doris Nelson, Mrs. Geraldine Mau, and Miss Mabel Wemp. To them, both students and teachers turn in search for the answers to the many questions that come up in a school of our size, and they are always willing to lend a helping hand or suggestion.

Miss Nelson is in charge of the credits and activity schedules. She keeps in close touch with the seniors, reminding them of credits that might be lacking or any other deficiency in schedules that might appear. With the aid of two attendance officers, Mrs. Mau takes care of the attendance and checks up on truant students and needy cases. She is also in charge of the N.Y.A. student lists, building permits, and school tokens. The heavy responsibility of being school treasurer goes to Miss Wemp, who cares for all organization funds, the book room, and the Libbey Scholarships. Last, but not least, is Mr. George Keller, our head custodian.

SENIOR CLASS OF 1940

"Vincit qui se vencit"—"He conquers who conquers himself"—is the well-chosen motto of the Senior Class of 1940. We, the Seniors, believe this to be the true spirit of our class now and always.

SENIOR CLASS OF 1940

We have the distinction of being the first class to graduate under the new curriculum requirements of three majors and one minor, instead of the old system of sixteen credits in either a general, academic, commercial, or industrial arts course.

"Almost Eighteen" started the Senior activities this spring. Presented on May 3rd under the direction of Eugene Miller, it proved to be a very appropriate choice. May 18th was the date chosen for the Senior Banquet and Prom. The ballroom of the Commodore Perry Hotel was the place selected for an evening that brought memories that will linger long. May 26th is the date of the baccalaureate services to be held at Trinity Church.

Then graduation day—the great day when so many bonds are reluctantly broken—will come at last. On Wednesday morning, May 29th, we are to receive our diplomas in the Paramount Theater. We have spent four happy years at Waite and we are sorry to leave but the high road of life beckons and we cannot resist.

"It singeth low in every heart
We hear it each and all,—
A song of those who answer not,
However we may call;
They throng the silence of the breast,
We see them as of yore,—
The kind, the brave, the true, the sweet,
Who walk with us no more."

SCENES AROUND THE BEAUTIFUL EDIFICE THAT WILL LONG REMAIN IN OUR MEMORY

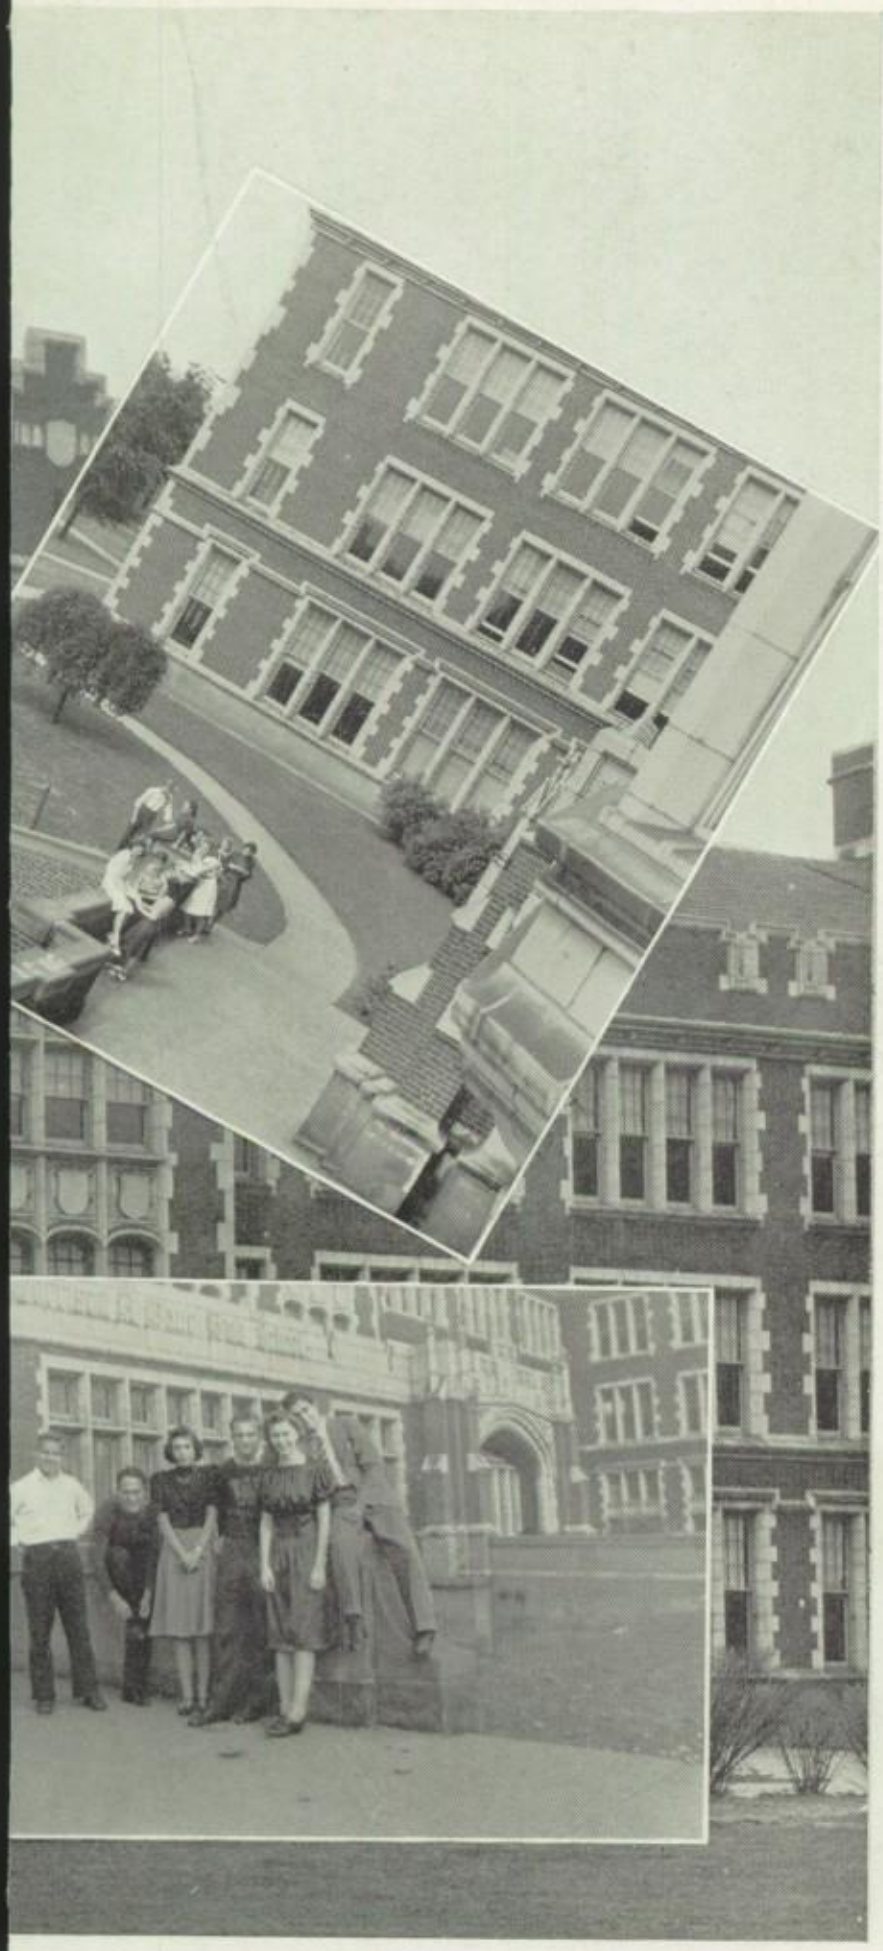
School's out and the students wend their way homeward.

It was a cold day but Norma Poling, Marylyn Renz, Margie Boda, Magdalene Ujlaki, and Mary Gottfried posed between classes.

A warm day finds a group of students reluctant to enter the building to start work.

Freshmen Eleanor Nieman, Bernice Bedal, Helen Heninger, Frank Westenkirchener, David Morris hesitate in front of the building before entering for instructions on Freshman Day.

Paul Edler, Andy Lakatos, Dorothy Poorbaugh, Bob Wolff, Margaret Senft, and Scotty Huffman slip out after the National Honor Society Induction to have their pictures taken.



Time to go home, so after a busy day three of Waite's popular fair sex, Lois Anspach, Ellyn Sommers, and Betty Ducey start for home.

The privilege of wearing the flaming torch and keystone insignia represents to the members of the National Honor Society of Waite High School at least three and one-half years of objective work and service. Abiding by these words, "All that we put into the life of others comes back into our own," these students have shown their worth by excelling in scholarship, character, service and leadership. Their reward is the highest that Waite can offer—membership in the Waite chapter of the National Honor Society

Under the helpful and administrative guidance of its advisers, Miss Sarah Waite and Miss Mildred Burns, the chapter made many worthwhile accomplishments this year. Seeking diversified knowledge, the club heard talks given by Professor Emch from the University of Toledo on parliamentary procedure, Mrs. Smead, Scott High faculty member, on her trip through England, Mrs. Packer on success in life, and a musical program by Mr. Mathias. The address for the first semester induction of new members was given by Howard Boggs, graduate of the University of Michigan. In March when the final group of seniors and the selected members of the junior class were inducted, a very enlightening talk was given by Dr. R. Lincoln Long. In order to reward and encourage all students, the society held the annual recognition day for both upper and lower classmen. At this time outstanding students in all organizations are presented with tokens of recognition of their accomplishments. In order to give a scholarship to some worthy senior, the chapter sponsored a talk by Frank Orm, a scholar who had traveled in Germany.

The first semester committee chairmen were: Steve Werkman, social; Jean McCabe, service; Beverly Hill, attendance; Dale Luebben, finance; Mildred Schalkhauser, program; and Budd Scharbach, induction. Succeeding these second semester were Richard Long, Beverly Hill, Margaret Senft, Lloyd Weeks, Jean McCabe, Phyllis Harriman and, in addition, Edward Faneuff, freshman and sophomore recognition day service and Dorothy Bushman, junior and senior recognition service.

In all its years this organization has worked to uphold its ideals—sincere service, cultivated character, loyal leadership and superior scholarship.

ANNUAL

"Weather permitting, class groups will be taken next week." "Attention all Seniors! Next week is the deadline for pictures." "How about changing that sport layout?" "Get your Annual subscription in now before it is too late." These are just a few of the familiar announcements and statements that members of the Purple and Gold staff hear from September until April. No one realizes the work connected with publishing a yearbook until he actually works on the staff. Dorothy Gall, editor-in-chief, and Evelyn Valigosky, business manager, headed a diligent staff which proved capable of producing a championship yearbook (we hope).

The six weeks enforced vacation was quite a blow to the staff, for much valuable time was lost. However, efforts were redoubled and everyone worked just a little harder. Selected members from the business and literary staffs attended the National Scholastic Press Association Convention held at the Hotel Stevens in Chicago on November 9, 10, 11. The trip was great inspiration to those of us who produce the yearbook. The Annual vaudeville show, featuring Jimmie Martin's Orchestra and Chris Christoff as master of ceremonies, was staged before a capacity audience February 29, and proved to be one of the swing musical successes of the year. Who can forget the Hunchback of Notre Dame?

The staff wishes to express their appreciation to Miss Maxine Cosgray for her splendid literary criticism, to Mr. Earl Combs for his guidance as business adviser, and to Miss Flora Carpenter for the unique art work done under her supervision.

Heading toward All-American is the aim of all the high school papers in the United States. The Retina is no exception, but that is not their main goal—it's to satisfy the students with news of the various clubs, tidbits about fellow classmates, etc. Miss Cowell, their very capable adviser, not only wishes to do this but to put out into the world a group of people who will be intelligent newspaper readers and realize the work behind the headlines.

Gold pins will be awarded this year to workers who earn so many points while working on the sheet. These points may be earned in various different ways: a well written editorial, a scoop, an interview with a well-known celebrity, well-written regular stories, addition to gossip columns, and any other article that makes an interesting paper.

The staff issued Hallowe'en, Old English and April Fool numbers besides the regular edition brought out every other Tuesday.

Contests with prizes were included in several of the issues. The readers tested their skill in untangling scrambled names of movie stars and widely advertised products.

STUDENT COUNCIL

GEORGE GEORGEFF
President of Student Council

The year 1939-40 has produced a group of students who have accepted the responsibility expected of those belonging to the Waite Student Council. The Council has contributed much time to student problems that arise concerning organizations, extra-curricular activities, and social affairs.

A different organization was set up last September and it has proved very satisfactory. The council now consists of a president elected by the student body and a board of ten directors, appointed by the president with the approval of the Student Council. Each director selects a member of the faculty who acts as his adviser.

George Georgeff has headed the Council this year as president and has been very conscientious in his attempt to keep things running smoothly and to see that all difficulties are worked out to everyone's complete satisfaction. The directors are as follows: Director of Finance, Budd Scharbach, adviser Mrs. Victoria Canfield; Director of Service, Scotty Huffman, adviser, Miss Edythe Bumgardner; Director of Organizations, Chris Christoff, adviser, Miss Maxine Cosgray; Director of Publications, Goldie Hliaroudis, adviser, Miss

Each director has his separate committee that works on its particular problems and then, in turn, works with the Council as a whole. The remaining membership is made up of representatives selected by the student body and presidents of all the organizations at Waite.

Meetings are held every other week and at other times deemed necessary by the president or adviser. Discussions are varied and, at times, quite lengthy. In the fall, a new point system for organization officers was set up. An effort was made to make it necessary to distribute offices in the many organizations of Waite and prevent a few students from holding all important offices in school. This has given others an opportunity to prove their ability as leaders and to serve their organizations in more than a casual membership. Welfare has been a vital problem at Waite this year and the Council attempted to do what it could for the many needy cases that arose.

Football mass meetings were under the supervision of the Student Council this year. The council also sponsored several dances after basketball games and the "Spring Swing" held March 30 at the Calumet Temple.

PERICLEAN

Many people do not realize the benefits derived from literary societies in the high schools. This year the girls in the Periclean Literary Society had a very worth while program studying the history of drama. They began with the origin and followed through the modern drama. At each meeting the Peri locket and bracelet were awarded in the usual manner to the girls who gave the best reviews. Among the plays reviewed by the girls this year included "Queen Victoria Regina," "Star Wagon," "Idiots Delight," "Ah! Wilderness." Another point of interest in the Peri meetings are the extemporaneous speeches. One may well see the reason of their symbol, the lamp of knowledge.

At the beginning of each semester, the girls enlarge their club by admitting a few new members with an impressive candlelight service and spread. This year the first semester spread was in the home of Gertrude Mendelson and the second semester, in the home of Dorothy Brandt. The pledges were initiated after one day of wearing the Peri sign on their foreheads. The club voted for their standard sweater of dark blue and yellow again this year.

LITERARY SOCIETY

The social activities are by no means of minor importance. The annual Peri-Zet Dance, held at Calumet Temple on February 3, was an unusual success. Jimmy Martin's orchestra furnished the music and the hall was decorated in pastel colors. The spring tea on May 9, welcomed the mothers and gave them an opportunity to meet the club members and the advisers.

The seniors learn at the end of the year that all good things must come to an end. After all their many good times, they find it hard to say goodbye. The spring banquet is given in their honor and adds one more pleasant memory of their years as Peris. The banquet was held on May 25, in the Women's Building. The emblem of the club in the form of a locket is given each senior as remembrance of her Peri Days.

The advice of Miss Theresa Malloy, Miss Maxine Cosgray and Miss Lasetta Pickard helped the Peri girls through difficulties which they found trying.

FORUM

Athletes, honor students, active participants in school life compose the membership of the Forum Literary Society, a group of fellows from whom one expects great things now and later on in life.

This year's activities were ably directed by the president, Steve Werkman, who was nobly assisted by a fine staff of officers under the watchful eyes of the worthy advisers, Mr. Milton Williams and Mr. William Brenner. Although the members express verbally their thanks to the advisers for the time given them, the club wishes to take this opportunity to express in a lasting way an appreciation of their work and the help they have given them throughout the year.

It was not difficult to distinguish the Forum members around the building, for they chose a scarlet and maroon jacket as the distinction. The combination of colors proved to be very startling and very noticeable.

Tradition acts as a dictator of many of the activities and this year there was no digression from the traditional activities. First of these was the annual sports classic, the Forum-Q.D. football game. The game, played in a sea of mud, had a tragic ending as far as the Forum was concerned, for the Q.D.'s managed to slide over the goal more often than the Forum did. However, their spirit was not crushed and they are waiting for the next game in the fall when they hope to vindicate their defeat and come out victorious.

Athletic differences were forgotten, however, when the Forum and Q.D. members joined forces to sponsor the annual dance. This gala affair was held March 2 at the Heather Downs Country Club. The attractive couples danced to the rhythmic strains of Jimmy Reemsnyder's orchestra and the melodious voice of Betty Grosjean, a former Waite High student. Much of the success of the affair was due to the committee which consisted of Gerold Dixon, chairman, assisted by Leroy Feldkamp, Ray Keefe, George Hanzi, and James Schultz.

We must not forget, however, that this is a literary organization. Regular meetings are held every other Friday afternoon after school. Book reviews given by the members formed the programs for the majority of the meetings. Mr. Williams enlightened the members with his talk on parliamentary procedure and showed them how they could conduct their meetings in a more business-like manner. The fall and spring initiations were a source of amusement for the old members, but, for the new members—oh! why bring that up!

ZETALETHEAN

Modern is as modern does—that seems to be the code of the Zetalethean Literary Society this year. The members chose as their all-important literary theme, "Biographies and autobiographies drawn from a modern bookshelf." From this theme many diversified reports have been given, varying from swing to science, Benny Goodman to Eve Curie. These reports were given at the meetings which are held every other Friday afternoon after school. Two reports are given at each meeting and the Zet locket is awarded to the better of the two for the first week following the meeting, then the second week to the member giving the other report.

The gatherings outside of school are the "tops," because these are the initiations and the spreads. The fall spread was held at the home of Marian Humberstone where the pledges were put through mild tortures. Games and picture-taking were the main attractions at Lois Anspach's home, the scene of the second spread after initiation was over.

To select their pledges the Zets and Peris combined to give the mixer to which all eligible candidates were invited. Games were played and ice cream was served for refreshments. Music was furnished for dancing by the loud speaker system.

A rather heated discussion was had as to whether the distinctions, the green and gray wool sweaters with the gray Z on the front, should be standardized. Some of the girls wanted gaberdine jackets, but the majority voted for the standardization of the regular distinctions.

Calumet Temple was the scene of one of the gayest evenings on the social calendar, for it was here that the annual dance of the Zets and Peris was held on February 20th with Jimmy Martin's Collegians playing for the enthusiastic audience of dancers.

Mothers and daughters gathered in the school refectory on April 25th for the annual Mother's Tea. The members presented an interesting program and the tea table was beautifully decorated in spring colors.

The advisers, who give so much time and energy in aiding the officers and committees in making decisions and conducting their meetings, are Mrs. Delia Fortune, Miss Marian Hart, and Miss Marguerite Griffith. They have very often aided the girls in selecting subjects for the extemporaneous speeches that take place at some of the meetings. These counselors have proved invaluable in offering suggestions for the social affairs which predominate.

The final formal gathering will be the banquet to be held at the Woman's Building on May 25th. The seniors will be presented with farewell gifts by the junior members and a colorful evening will terminate a pleasant and memorable year. Friendships thus formed in an educational society will be lasting and worth while.

QUILL AND DAGGER

Friendship-Fraternity-Endeavor-Achievement. These standards of the Quill and Dagger Literary Society are a goal for which all of its members strive. Last Spring a new constitution was drawn up and passed so that the organization could stay closer to its ideals and carry the spirit of coöperation and fellowship to even a higher degree. Mr. Arthur Mills and Mr. Wilbur Miller were chosen again as advisers, with Mr. Fred Mathias as honorary adviser. They continued to guide the club onward to its goal as an outstanding society of Waite High School. The club has the greatest respect for these members of the faculty who have given time and energy to the organization and have helped the members enjoy more fully their high school life.

Social functions began early in the fall with the initiation ceremony, which was held in Pearson Park shelter house. This proved an amusing affair for the old members. When challenged to a football game by the Forum Literary Society, the Q.D.'s accepted and, as usual, won, this year by the score of 22-7. This game was played in a blinding rainstorm and was christened the "Mud Bowl" after it was over. The highlight of the social season was the Q.D.-Forum dance held this year at Heather Downs Country Club on March 2nd. This was handled by a committee headed by Walter Reeves, assisted by Ewing Miller, Don St. John, Dick McIlhargey, and Price Seferian.

The second semester initiation took place at Ottawa Park during a spring snow storm and the fellows had a grand time with an informal spread following the induction. The Q.D. Spring Dance came in late April and was a fine conclusion to a very successful social season for the club.

An exceptional series of literary programs was attempted by the boys throughout the year. These programs consisted of book reviews, songs, stories and extemporaneous lectures on both humorous and serious subjects. Many talks were given by Louis Martin on classical Latin and Greek Poetry. He also presented several sketches on famous books and poetry.

This has been another fine year of the organization and we are certain that they will become more successful as the years roll on.

SENIOR

To stand for good school work, wholesome pleasure, a friendly spirit, helpfulness to others, and a normal happy friendship with Jesus Christ is the purpose of the Friendship clubs. The code of the club is, "To Face Life Squarely" and "To Find and Give the Best." Such standards as these challenge the Senior Friendship Club girls and help them in their daily lives both at school and at home.

The members of the organization would like to take this opportunity to thank the advisers, Miss Louise Nelson and Miss Isabella Houk, who were helpful and aided in making this a much better club. Good advisers mean so much to an organization of this type and the girls consider themselves fortunate in having the splendid advice and companionship of Miss Houk and Miss Nelson.

Probably the brightest side of the club is the welfare work. At Thanksgiving time the girls derived great pleasure in planning baskets for needy families. Special care was taken with these baskets this year, for the club did not have the opportunity to give the usual Christmas baskets because of the closing of school. Welfare work did not terminate with the baskets, however, because later the members sold candy in the halls before and after school in order to raise money for under-privileged children. The girls also planned an Orphan's party which was indefinitely postponed due to an epidemic of mumps in the Home.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB

Helpfulness to others was carried out in these ways, but the Senior Friendship girls did not neglect the standard of wholesome pleasure. A roller skating party was held at Memorial Hall on April 1. In spite of the tumbles and spills the enthusiastic crowd had a grand time. These skating parties were not so plentiful this year and the ones that were sponsored were well attended. The mothers of the members were honored at a Mother's Tea held in the refectory on May 22nd. Here the girls were given the opportunity to meet the mothers of their school acquaintances and introduce them to their advisers and friends.

Every other Wednesday afternoon finds the girls gathering together for their regular meetings. The programs are generally of a serious nature. Several members of the faculty brought the group talks of interest and inspiration. The programs were also augmented by talks by the regular club members. An interesting program was the community sing held with the Junior Friendship Club. This joint meeting proved to be outstanding because the ideas of the vows of the two groups were renewed and a pageant was given portraying the meaning of the vows and the code.

A capable group of officers efficiently carried out their duties and conscientiously did their work. Such workers make the smooth-running, inspirational organization that is so necessary in the extra-curricular activities of a school as large as ours.

The Junior Friendship Club, under the guidance of the advisers, Mrs. W. E. Hall and Mrs. Russell Brown, began its busy year by giving a party for the Freshmen. The event was to encourage friendship among the newly acquired students. The afternoon was spent by playing games and chatting. Later on during the party, refreshments were served.

Welfare work, which is a major interest of the club, was extensively carried out. With Lucille Veloff acting as Welfare Chairman, the girls got together and gave a Thanksgiving Basket to a needy family. The next project was a campaign to sell stamps for the Chinese Relief Fund. Ambitiously the girls sold shakers for the exciting football games of the season. A book, "Christmas In Other Lands," including pictures of the way Christmas is spent in other lands, was donated to the Waite library during National Book Week.

In addition to the social activities at the regular meetings, Jeanne Gidley, the Social Chairman, planned a party at the Y.W.C.A., at which the Sophomore Hi-Y were guests. There was keen rivalry to see who would prove to be the best in the games and contests.

The closing activity of the year was an April Fool's Party held at the Lutheran Orphanage. The orphans were intrigued by the program planned by Jeanne Gidley.

As we close the activities of the Junior Friendship, we want to give our thanks to the advisers and the officers for planning for the members of the Junior Friendship Club such a delightful and enjoyable school year.

Included in the many extra-curricular activities at Waite are the very worth while organizations that are branches of the Y.M.C.A. work and are known as the Junior and Senior Hi-Y clubs. Freshmen and Sophomores are eligible for membership in the Junior Club and Juniors and Seniors make up the membership of the Senior Hi-Y. The high ideals of these two organizations are reflected in their common purpose—to create, maintain, and extend, throughout school and community, higher standards of Christian living. Similar to this is the platform adopted to promote clean athletics, clean speech, clean scholarship, and clean living.

Working hand in hand with the boys and supervising their activities is Harlan Diehr, Executive secretary of the East Side Y.M.C.A. Mr. Diehr arranges the interesing programs that are held on Tuesday evenings at the Y. Mr. Russell Bear, Mr. William Brenner, and Mr. Milton Williams act as faculty advisers and supervise the clubs activities at school. Throughout the year these advisers give unhesitatingly of their time and their advice willingly to guide the clubs in their various undertakings. Meetings with other Hi-Y's and the Friendship Clubs constitute many of the social activities. Casual acquaintances result in lasting friendships based upon ideals and standards that make friendship a worth while part of the everyday life of our young people.

HALL PATROL

Volunteers, not of America, but of the Waite High School hall patrol, are a great help in managing the students. This organization is under the able direction of Mr. Jesse Steiner, who is establishing a code for his workers: Hall Patrol members must set a precedent as good examples for the student body.

For the first time in the history of the school, the Hall Patrol members are adorned with emblems or arm bands, given to them by the Student Council. This had been a great need in our school to establish the authority of the policemen.

Their duties are not too strenuous, just to see that every student in the halls has a hall permit to be out of class. Anyone not having a permit is reported to their dean.

The president, Robert Hecklinger, is also Police Commissioner on the Student Council. He appointed these captains for every school hour: 1st, Ruth Flagg; 2nd, Bob Hecklinger; 3rd, Scotty Huffman; 4th, Ray Huntsinger; 5th, Ted Begg; 6th, Don Hecklinger. The police commissioner selects members to attend auditorium sessions to aid the faculty in keeping the exuberance of the students in check.

Due to the vacation we enjoyed this year the Patrol's annual skating party was not held, which proved a disappointment to skating enthusiasts.

A few meetings were held this year to discuss some of the problems that confronted the Hall Patrol members. Pep talks by Mr. Steiner also helped the discouraged workers.

ENGINEERS

HOWARD FROEBEL, President
EWING MILLER, Vice-President
ROBERT WEEBER, Secretary
CLARENCE UNDERWOOD, Treasurer

This year marks the twentieth year of existence for the Waite High School Engineering Society. If we can judge the existence of a club by the way it is run, we will be safe in saying that this society will still be here in another twenty years and will possibly last as long as Waite High School.

Under the guidance of Mr. Christian Thomson, Mr. Alvin Youngquist, and Mr. Fred Klag, the club has built itself up to be on a par with any of the clubs at Waite. The Waite Engineers are part of a City Council which includes most of the schools in Toledo and vicinity. The aim of the Waite Engineers is to extend the education of the principles of engineering. The club has done very well in accomplishing this goal.

During the club meetings, members of the club give talks and hold discussions on different phases of engineering. In this way valuable and interesting information is obtained.

During the year the group has made trips through some of the industrial plants around Toledo and a trip to the ship-building company at Port Clinton is being planned. A few social activities were also carried out by the club, one of the most important ones being the initiation for new members.

Another important activity of the club is the bi-weekly publication of the Compass which is a paper containing engineering facts inside and outside of the school along with school gossip. Our worthy president acts as editor and Mr. Thompson attempts to censor material handed in by the reporters.

ALTOBEE ART CLUB

CLAUD SCHREITER, President
ARMO SEFERIAN, Vice-President
RUTH BERNICE FLAGG, Secretary
RICHARD MCDONALD, Treasurer
RAY FISHER, Sergeant-at-arms

The first big event of the Altobee Art Club was the initiation which took place in the art room, 203 B, October 23. Chairs and desks were removed and lights and walls decorated in true Hallowe'en style. New members wore the false faces which they made as part of their initiation. In these weird disguises they were put through many Hallowe'en stunts by Armo Seferian, who acted as chairman. After light refreshments, dancing was enjoyed with music from the broadcasting system.

During the year the regular meetings were held in the art room. The programs included games, contests, and a travel talk by the adviser, Miss Flora Carpenter. The Pal-a-teers were invited to join the dancing lesson which was given by one of the members.

The English architecture of our refectory offers splendid opportunity for sketching. The club is planning to sketch sections of the refectory from unusual angles and preserve in a permanent form some of the beauties of our school. The exterior of Waite is also attractive and the club plans to make sketches of the buildings this spring when the weather permits.

Miss Carpenter is generous with her time and has given the club much help and good advice during the year.

PAL-A-TEERS ART CLUB

PATTI SEEMANN, President
ROBERT PETCOFF, Vice-President
EDNA FOSTY, Secretary
GERALDINE ELLERBUSH, Treasurer

One of the new organizations at Waite is the Pal-a-teers Art Club, an organization whose name suggests its purpose—the study of modern art and the development of friendship with students interested in Art. Under the able direction of the adviser, Mrs. Carolyn Hatfield, the Club has had a good start this year.

Modern art offers a wide field for study and research and several programs were based upon the study of modern artists. Such great artists as Picasso, Mattisse, and Van Gogh were the subjects of talks prepared by the members and given at the regular club meetings. Modern art did not draw all the interest, however, for the club attempted other phases of work connected with the study of art. The members derived great enjoyment attempting to illustrate with impromptu pictures stories told at the meetings. Those with imagination and dexterity found it easy to put the stories into pictures. The club also made puppet heads for a play "Pierre Patlin," but never found time to present the play.

Even though art is the primary interest of the Pal-a-teers, the members did not devote all their programs to art. Several social affairs were planned. Prominent among these was the dance held with the Altobee Art Club in Miss Carpenter's room. Novices were given dancing instructions and the more experienced dancers enjoyed the music of the broadcasting system. A roast is being planned for early spring. Outdoor sketching will be on the menu as well as hamburgs and hot dogs.

The club distinction is a large yellow "W" with a palette and 1940 on it.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

MARY DAVIES, President

The Home Economics Club of Waite High School was organized for girls interested in home-making and for those girls who wanted to study the changing ideas and methods of the housekeeper. Of course the club is not all business. The girls planned many activities this year and made it one of the most active clubs in the school.

The club worked carefully to give interesting programs and they had some very good speakers at their meetings. Among these were Margaret Slater of the Police Department, Mrs. Bennett, who gave the girls ideas in furnishing small apartments, and Mrs. Garnett Lache, who spoke on the subject of Marajhuana.

During the Christmas season the girls had a Chow Mein supper and later on in the year they entertained the Clay Home Economics Club with a tea. A spring tea was given also for the mothers of the girls in the Waite Club. In April the club sponsored an afternoon dance which was a huge success.

One can see that the Home Economics Club has been far from idle during the past school season and if the club continues to grow it will be one of the largest groups at Waite. The club now belongs to the National Home Economics Club and we are sure it will continue to succeed under the guidance of the advisers, Miss Effie Mallory and Miss Nelle Wales.

"Eh, bien La Séance est ouverte"—One might be very confused if he witnessed a meeting of "Le Cercle Français," and was not acquainted with the French language. This is the club that seeks to aid the members to speak fluently and to understand French. All its meetings and activities are conducted in French. By means of games, songs, and plays the members use the more common French phrases. Many of the members have correspondents in France, to whom they write and exchange school news, photographs and daily news. One of the letters this year was very interesting because it had passed through the French war-time censors.

This year the club bought pins for the members to wear during their membership in the club. Every year the club uses the funds to buy new games, French maps, and French books. The vivacious members headed by the competent committee of Ruby De Barr, chairman, Ewing Miller, Mary Ames, Betty Grove, Ruth Roberts, and John Ane made a grand success of their skating party. The chaperons were entertained and everyone enjoyed a merry evening.

Under the ingenious supervision of Miss Isabella Houk this club has done very many things this year to make French a vibrant and active subject. Some of the members attended a presentation of the French movie "Mayerling" at Scott High School. At the end of the year the club held the annual picnic. One who has a knowledge of the French language is rewarded by being able to recognize French phrases found in menus and newspapers.

GIRLS' "W" CLUB

The gym of Waite High School is used by many organizations, but one of the most important and enthusiastic users of it is the Girls' "W" Club. Not only do they make use of the gym, but they also use the practice field behind the football stadium.

The "W" Club was organized for the purpose of enabling girls to receive honors for their athletic achievements. The girls have to earn a certain number of points for each award. The "W" is earned after receiving 1,300 points.

With the assistance and guidance of Miss Mary Louise Bowman and Miss Genevieve Swain, the girls have had several social activities. The Co-ed Prom, held February 16, was properly decorated with large white hearts trimmed in red. The first part of the evening was devoted to the girls only. Most of them came in costumes and competed in the contest for the funniest and prettiest costumes. Later in the evening the boys were admitted on the stub of a girl's ticket. A roller skating party was held March 13, at Memorial Hall. The members also invited the Woodward "W" Club over for a splash party after school.

Wishing to have more active participation in sports by a mixed group, the "W" Club inaugurated the plan of having a co-educational splash party held after school. Several students presented an exhibition of diving.

The "W" Club also helped with the ticket sale and presentation of the play "Everybody's Here," sponsored by the P.T.A. and given April 11 and 12.

BOYS' "W" CLUB

FRANK KADLICK, President
LESTER RIDEOUT, Vice-President
EMERSON UEBERROTH, Secretary-Treasurer
DANNY MARAZON, Sergeant-at-arms

One of the most informal, but one of the most honorary organizations of Waite, is the Boys' "W" Club, an organization whose members wear the coveted "W" earned through active participation in a major sport. Many students believe eligibility for membership in "W" Club comes only from football and basketball, but we wish to correct this fallacy to state that any student earning a letter in baseball, golf, tennis, track, or swimming, as well as in football and basketball, automatically becomes a member of this organization. All coaches of the various inter-scholastic athletics in which Waite participates act as advisers of the club.

Because it is more or less an honorary group, the "W" Club does not have the formal organization of the rest of the clubs in school. No regular meetings are held; however, the boys do sponsor athletic programs at various times throughout the year. Wrestling is comparatively new to high school sports and Waite students were well initiated by the exciting wrestling matches held in the gym during home-room period. Grunts and groans were encouraged by the rousing cheers of the spectators. Of course, the wrestlers didn't display professional caliber, but the enthusiasm was comparable to that of the professionals. John Baker would make any opponent cringe by just looking at him with his "Wrestler's" expression. The wrestling matches were augmented by boxing matches. Waite students were given the chance to see Frankie Gerard in action. Frankie is one of the outstanding young boxers in the state and his classmates will be glad to say some day, "I knew Frankie when he used to box at school." The "W" Club also sponsored a sports movie which showed parts of the major college football clashes of 1939 and gave the students a taste of collegiate football. No separate social functions are given by the boys, for they are much too busy taking an active part in the athletic life of Waite.

SPANISH CLUB

"Buenos Dias, Senoritas y Senores"; "¿Como esta vd?"; "¡Que lo pase vd. bien!"; "Pase vd. por nuestra casa algun dia." These are some of the expressions that are familiar to us in the Spanish Club. The club helps us to become more acquainted with them and to use them more easily when the opportunity arises. Other purposes of the organization are to put to use the knowledge which is learned in the classroom and to stimulate interest in the Spanish life and language.

The Spanish Club is also used to familiarize the students with the language by talking, chatting, and singing songs in Spanish. Learning many games and customs of Spanish speaking people is also in the yearly program. Games such as Spanish riddles, matching Spanish expressions to English expressions, Spanish crossword puzzles, and recognizing Spanish proverbs help the club a great deal in bettering its knowledge of Spanish. The President helps by conducting all the meetings in Spanish.

In January the club went to Scott High School to see a Spanish film entitled "El Rancho Grande." The third and fourth year students understood it fairly well, but the first and second year students were thrilled when they heard and understood a familiar expression. The yearly programs also included the showing of colored pictures taken in Mexico, a Spanish talk given by a guest speaker, and the sponsoring of a candy sale.

A great deal of credit goes to the club's adviser, Miss Edythe Baumgardner, who assists us at the meetings. She also helps us to correct or better our Spanish at any time necessary.

"Semper Paratus", the motto of the Optimates, expresses the high standard and ideals of an organization that make it one of the outstanding language clubs at Waite. Miss Fon Boerger serves as adviser and has guided the club to its present position. Miss Boerger, who was ill for the first ten weeks of school, was late in taking over her duties, but the officers assisted by Mrs. John Osborne, substitute teacher, kept the club in fine running order. Mrs. Delia Fortune also consented to be an adviser this year and the club wishes to thank her sincerely for her work.

Because the group was organized to give the Latin students a better understanding of the Latin language and the Roman people, many fine programs on these subjects were presented this year. Lectures were given by the advanced students on the various Roman Gods and Goddesses and a short Latin play was well received by the members. The Virgil class gave an "Information Please" program consisting of questions concerning the stories read by the class members. Haldon Delo acted as Master of Ceremonies and asked the questions. The board of experts, composed of several of the class members, gave a very fine showing of their understanding of the Latin language. Mrs. Fortune's class took active part in club affairs and many fine things are expected of them next year.

The club this year was under the leadership of the Virgil class and lived up to their ideals. In years to come we are certain that the club will stay in its place as an outstanding organization and will continue to improve as "tempus fugit."

GLEE

Da, De, da—Is it a radio? No, it's not music on the air, but music in the air coming from the Glee Club practice. When this melodious harmony comes to an end, they discuss plans for their busy year.

In the fall, a concert blended the combined efforts of the orchestra, band, and Glee club. The program was delightful both in ensemble work and solo numbers. When interest lagged and work seemed a burden, the Wittenberg quartet came to cheer us up. The quartet proved versatile and entertaining; one moment, serious, and the next, bringing shouts of laughter from the appreciative audience. A lecture by the absent-minded professor climaxed the program.

What could have been more enjoyable than an operetta in the spring? Any young man's heart would turn to love, after seeing and hearing "Once In A Blue Moon," given April 5, lead by a splendid cast. Mr. Ball had his worries with this operetta. Rehearsals were well under way when two prominent members were lost; Marjorie Whitcomb was whisked away from school to go to Florida and Joe Ohl had to leave school. Replacements were hurriedly made and rehearsals were soon going smoothly again. A large chorus served as an adequate support to the principals and harmonized beautifully on the choral selections. Music is an interesting field and such active participation as this lends interest to the year's work.

Along with Springtime comes Maytime and the May Festival. The splendid voice of the guest soloist was an inspiration to the music lovers gathered for the occasion. DeVilbiss stadium was the setting for the praiseworthy music of the combined bands, orchestras, and glee clubs of the Toledo High Schools. With such array of good things in music, who will say we were not especially favored?

But concerts, operettas, and festivals are not the end of the club's work. They hear stories and songs of operas, study about symphony orchestras and great composers under the supervision of Mr. Clarence Ball, their adviser. Mr. Ball is to be congratulated upon his work with these students, few who have had any extensive music training, but all who are eager to learn. Distinguishing these songsters from the rest of the student body is easy, for they blossomed forth with the stylish distinctions of red and gray sweaters.

Four days a week as the Waite Student body rushes down from the refectory, it may, if it listens, hear the pleasant strains of some musical classic. The students know that this music comes from the auditorium where the orchestra practices and studies. Most students do not realize, however, that these classes, which all the school enjoys, are only a small part of the curriculum of the orchestra members. The orchestra is a serviceable organization in that it helps in the presentation of many programs in and around school. No National Honor Society induction would seem complete without several selections from the orchestra. This year when the commencement exercises are held at the Paramount Theatre, the orchestra will be on hand to do its part.

The members, under the able direction of Miss Bessie Werum, have presented four major programs during the year. In February, the band, glee club, and orchestra united to sponsor a program of specially selected music. The orchestras of DeVilbiss, Scott, Waite, and Woodward played, in the DeVilbiss auditorium, in a combined concert for the public in March. The Operetta "Once In A Blue Moon" was presented by the Waite glee club supported by the orchestra.

As a fitting climax to a busy year, all the glee clubs, bands, and orchestras of the Toledo high schools presented the Annual Music Festival. Deviating from custom, pins were purchased this year as distinctions.

BAND

Whatever the occasion—football games, mass meetings, special occasions and parades—the Waite band is always ready and willing. With colors flying, they lead us at the football games and help cheer the team to victory. Few realize the time and practice necessary to work out their intricate marching formations. Led by Charles Copus and Carl Melms and under the direction of Mr. Sutphen, the band has just completed a very successful year.

ANNUAL SOLICITORS

Students enrolled in Miss Cosgray's annual class perform the editorial duties of the yearbook, art students under the supervision of Miss Carpenter make the division pages, the business manager with the help of Mr. Combs contact the leading merchants and organization treasurers for the contributions that help finance the yearbook, but there is a group of students who are instrumental in making it possible for the Purple and Gold to be published. These are the students known as the annual solicitors. It is their duty to go around to each homeroom on Monday and Thursday, soliciting subscriptions for the yearbook.

Definite organization is very necessary with this group. The adviser is Mr. Combs and their chairman is Evelyn Valigosky, this year's business manager. Evelyn has able assistants in Clara May and Donna Kluck. Instead of having each home room send a representative as was previously done, volunteers for this work were asked for and a group of responsible students were selected from those responding to the call. Each solicitor has a territory of his own and must take care of all subscriptions within his territory. After the initial subscription payment is made, each solicitor must continue to make his calls collecting the additional payments until the subscription is finally paid for. It is up to the solicitor to keep his records straight so as to correspond with the bookkeeper and know exactly how much each subscriber has paid, so that there will be no last minute mix-ups when it is time to distribute the Purple and Gold.

It is fitting that a whole page is devoted to these workers who are so important in the publication of a yearbook.

CAMERA CLUB

MURIEL HALE, President
TOM ROBINETTE, Vice-President
JUNE STRUBBLE, Secretary
BETTY DUCEY, Treasurer

At the many social, athletic, and extra-curricular functions at Waite there has often been the remark, "If we just had someone who could take pictures and not have to call in a commercial photographer." But there has never been anyone capable of doing this. However, with the organization of the Camera Club, we now have a group of students being trained in the art of photography and our important functions will not be without a student photographer in the future.

Because it is a new organization, the group is not large, but it has the hope of becoming one of Waite's largest and most active extra-curricular groups. The aim of the club is to create an interest in photography in Waite High School. In its first year the club has done well and the enthusiasm of the members indicates that the group will become invaluable to activities in our school.

The Camera Club was fortunate in securing Mr. John Petrow to act as an outside adviser and Mr. Combs as their faculty adviser. At the evening meetings Mr. Petrow explained fully the construction of a camera, the correct use of an enlarger, the correct method of developing films and making prints, and many other tricks of photography that make artistic pictures. Those students new to this field of work derived much knowledge from Mr. Petrow's talks and those who are more experienced gathered many new ideas.

When the weather permitted, club members went on location trips. The good advice of the counselor was followed and several could notice a difference in their pictures after they were developed. One interesting and instructive trip was taken through a portrait studio and another through a commercial studio.

A spring hayride was planned. One need not describe the good time that "was had by all." Wouldn't you like to see some of the candid shots taken upon this occasion? We would.

FOOTBALL

Once in about every ten years the average high school produces an exceptionally strong football team. Until 1932, Waite fans talked of the team of 1924, and until this year spoke of the '32 team in an awed and almost reverent manner. Even when one realized that Waite had a veteran line from tackle to tackle and plenty of backfield material, he did not expect wonders. Sports writers stated that several of our foes across the river would fight it out for the city championship. Waite's team, however, disproved all these theories and proved to be much better than average.

WAITE 33—PEABODY 0 SEPTEMBER 15

Because of conflicting schedules, Waite was forced to play one of its strongest rivals in the first game of the season. Peabody, East coast champs, were completely outclassed by the Indians who were led by Bob Hecklinger and Ross Isel.

WAITE 42—LINDBLOOM 12 SEPTEMBER 22

Our foes suddenly realized that Waite might have something when an unusually strong Lindbloom team was beaten without effort. Danny Marazon and Paul Beach starred in the fracas. Marazon and Bob Wolff worked together for six consecutive conversions.

WAITE 27—SANDUSKY 6 SEPTEMBER 29

Reënforced by a trainload of cheering students, the Indians journeyed to Sandusky to play the famed Blue Streaks. In a sea of mud and a cloud of fog, Captain Jack Martin led the Indians to a victory. Hecklinger, Wolff, and Sharkoff slid over for the touchdowns.

WAITE 28—WOODWARD 0 OCTOBER 6

Breaking into city competition, the Indians coasted over the hapless Polar Bears. Louie Sharkoff, substituting for Hecklinger, scored twice to prove his outstanding ability.

WAITE 50—SAGINAW 7 OCTOBER 13

The fame of the Waite steam-roller was spread into Michigan as a well-known Saginaw eleven was crushed by an impressive score. It was somewhat of a track meet for Hecklinger who ran almost where he pleased.

WAITE 14—CENTRAL CATHOLIC 7 OCTOBER 20

Central Catholic, one of the teams picked to figure in the city championship and boasting a beautiful record, came across the Maumee as Waite's next foe. The elevens were pretty evenly matched, but the Indians resorted to an aerial attack which resulted in a victory. John Ripple, Emerson Ueberroth, and Captain Martin played a splendid game.

WAITE 27—DEVILBISS 0 OCTOBER 27

Hoping to repeat last year's upset, the DeVilbiss Tigers next challenged Waite's strength. Trailing by two touchdowns, DeVilbiss had marched to the Waite one-yard line and seemed certain to score. A short pass, however, was intercepted by Frank Kadlick, who ran 99 yards for a touchdown. Les Rideout played a commendable game at left tackle.

WAITE 33—KNOXVILLE 0 NOVEMBER 4

The Indians capitalized upon the misfortunes of the Spartans and, with Lady Luck behind them, ran up a large score against this highly praised team. It was Mike Screptok's birthday, and, as a result, his last game in a Waite uniform. His playing, as always, was not only good, but clean.

The most important play in the Waite-Portsmouth Buckeye Bowl Game at Columbus. If you look closely you can see the ball just leaving Bob Wolff's foot. That is the ball that ended in a field goal which was this championship game for Waite.

WAITE 32—LIBBEY 6 NOVEMBER 11

This game was, in many respects, the most important of the season. It brought together the two undefeated, untied teams of the city. The winner would at least share the city championship. The Cowboys, however, misplayed their cards completely, and their confidence soon became despair. They had been thinking only of stopping Hecklinger, but Gene Bumpus, replacing Screptok, carried the Indian attack for the first quarter. Confused by this change and stunned by Gene's power, the Cowboys were easily beaten. After the first quarter, Hecklinger came back to score twice, once on a 62-yard run.

WAITE 32—SCOTT 0 NOVEMBER 23

In their twenty-sixth annual Thanksgiving Day contest, the Scott Bulldogs and Waite Indians kept to tradition by playing a clean, hard fought game. Scott was completely outclassed, however, and Waite won with ease. Bob Hecklinger received a broken collar bone during the game, an accident which brought to a close the brilliant high school career of an outstanding running halfback.

WAITE 9—PORTSMOUTH 7 DECEMBER 2

In a post-season game known as the first Buckeye Bowl contest, Waite met Portsmouth at Columbus in a game to decide the Ohio State High School Championship. A small aggregation of Waite fans braved the stormy weather to follow the team to Columbus. Early in the game Marazon ran 81 yards to score, but Waite missed the extra point. Later in the first half, Portsmouth scored and plunged for the point to take the lead. The game see-sawed back and forth until, with less than a minute remaining, Waite lined up for a field goal. Few who saw it will ever forget the moment when Bob Wolff kicked the ball down the field through the mist and straight between the goal posts. When the clock stopped after that play, it showed 32 seconds remaining in the game! When the game ended, Bill Provonsha had just intercepted a Portsmouth pass and Waite had a well-deserved victory.

Such a team would produce many star players and Waite had a good showing in the mythical elevens picked at the end of the season. Captain Jack Martin, Ross Isel, Emerson Ueberroth, and Bob Hecklinger made all-city team. Associated Press picked Martin and Isel for all-state,

United Press chose Martin and Hecklinger for all-state, and Ueberroth received honorable mention in both.

We feel very proud of Coach Jack Mollenkopf and his assistants, Frank Pauly and Claire Dunn. Long hours of practice and drill were finally rewarded with honors, trophies, and, most of all, the satisfaction that comes with producing a championship eleven.

RESERVE FOOTBALL TEAM

The average student cheers the varsity and praises its performances but does not realize that much of the smoothness and ability was gained while the players were on the reserve team. It is here the boys are given the first serious and tough workouts that train them for their work on the varsity. It is every player's dream to become a member of the varsity, but he must first go through the training and work of the reserve team before he can even hope to get a varsity suit. Coach George Konnert has done excellent work with his reserve team. For two years in succession they have won the city reserve championship. Such a record is indicative of good material and good coaching. At times these boys exhibit varsity caliber in executing plays and it is easy to see why Waite produces championship varsity teams when such material is produced by the reserve team.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL TEAM

The Freshman football team this year was exceedingly light. In every game played, the Freshmen were outweighed, sometimes by as much as twenty pounds to the man. Their opponents were not mediocre, for the Frosh played three varsity teams and two of these three teams were un-beaten at the end of the season. In the Toledo high school league the Freshmen were undefeated, tying Libbey 7-7 and defeating Woodward 7-6. These boys gained much valuable experience playing these varsity teams and will enter their reserve and varsity football years no longer green, but somewhat seasoned players. The Freshmen are looking forward to the time when they will help the Waite varsity win a championship. Much of their success is due to the excellent coaching and training of Coaches Rohlfing and Jeffery.

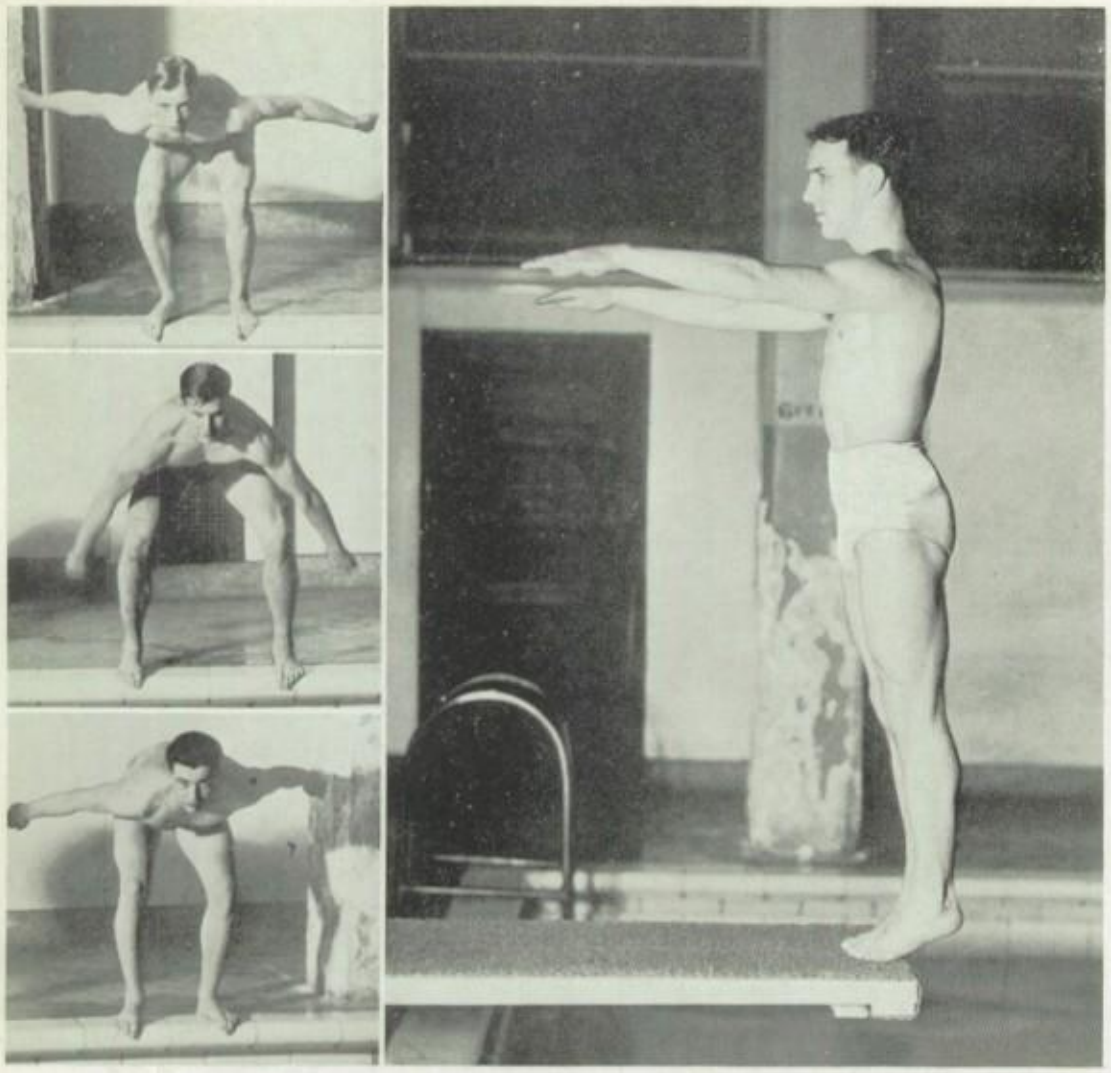
BASKETBALL

Beginning its season very late because of the six weeks enforced vacation, the basketball squad had a hard time getting started. Waite won the first two games then slumped into an unfortunate losing streak. Suddenly the boys hit their stride and burst forth as a winning club and continued to win until they reached the first round of the state tournament at Columbus. The squad should be congratulated for their superb performance in the district tournament. Coach Arthur Turby says, "It was a pleasure to coach such a fine team, great in both spirit and coöperation." The team won four straight victories in the district tournament and would have gone much farther in the state competition had they had some taller boys.

One might say the squad was more versatile than usual, for they played the regular games on the high school gym floors, but played their mid-week games on the large floor in the Field House at the University of Toledo. This produced a stronger squad and made the boys play together as a team and not as individuals.

City competition was difficult and exciting. The Libbey, Central, and Woodward games kept the spectators in suspense and literally on the edge of their seats. The team has a bright lookout for next season with five of its varsity players returning for the 1941 season.

The reserve squad had a fairly good season. Coach Wilbur Miller has higher hopes for his team next year, for many promising freshmen are coming up. The reserve squad sends several promising players to the varsity.

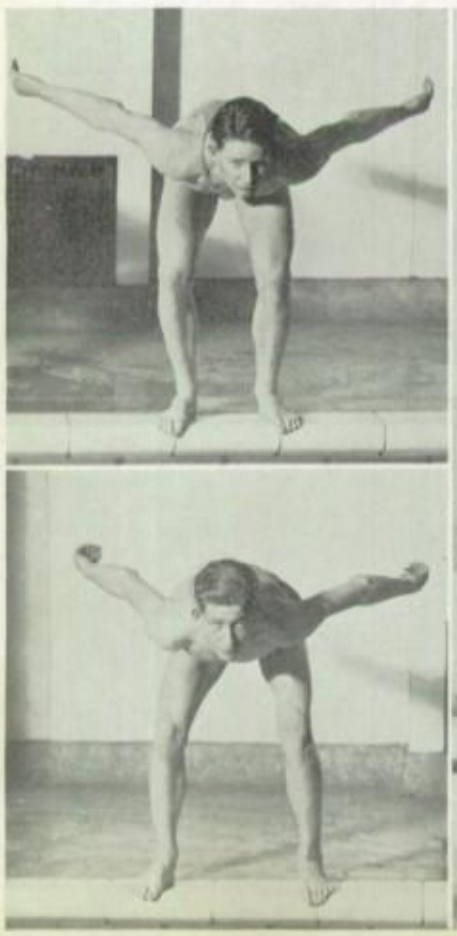


Carson Peterson, Emerson Ueberroth, and Jim Curtin demonstrate correct racing starts. Bill Whitman, star diver, is about to start a difficult dive.

SWIMMING TEAM

Aquatic sports are gradually gaining a foothold at Waite and are providing an excellent mid-year interest for those not participating in basketball. This year the work of the swimming team was delayed, but immediately after the enforced vacation they started strenuous workouts under the supervision of Mr. Claire Dunn. Although the team won only a few meets, it proved to be a better team than Waite has had for a few years. Strong competition was developed in the inter-city and inter-state meets.

Co-captains Warner Holman and Clint Ruby led the team as true sportsmen, taking the bitter with the sweet, for the meets were usually lost by just a few points. Several of Waite's "goldfish" are going to be lost through graduation, but enough remain as a nucleus of a stronger and better team next year.



Warner Holman and Clint Ruby are ready for a race.

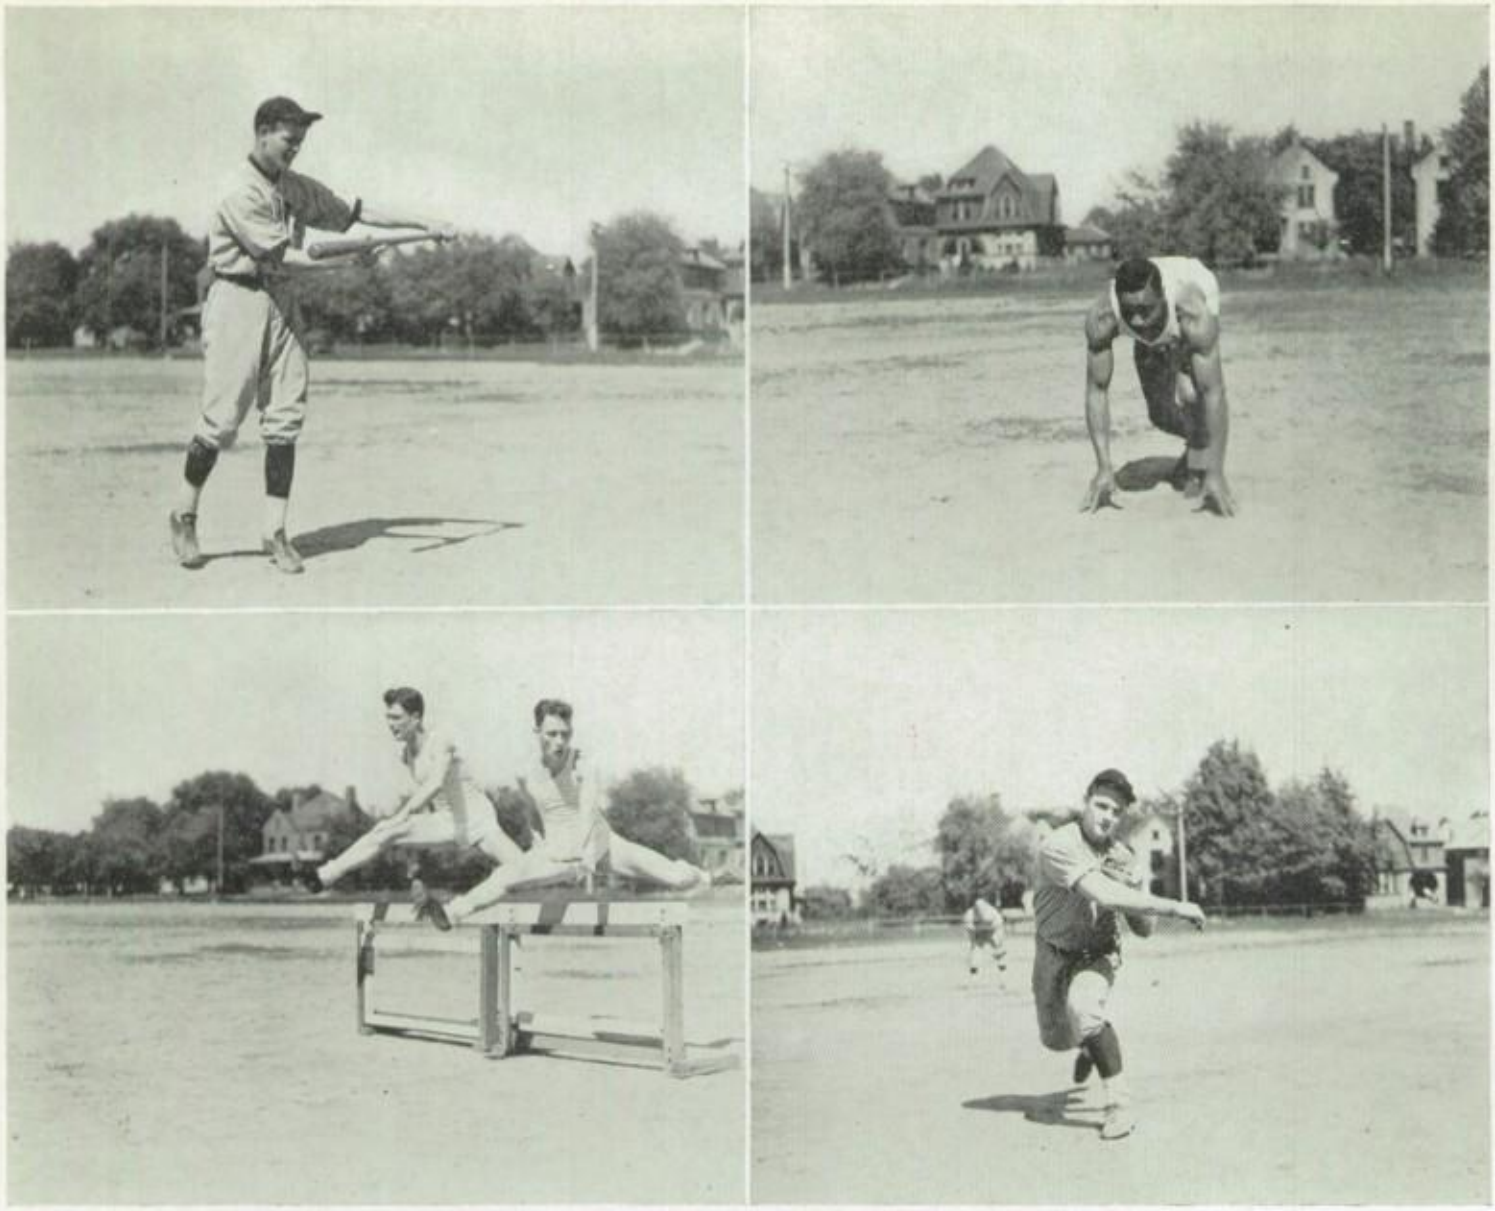
The art of balancing is demonstrated by Danny Marazon, Mike and Ken Cannon, and Bill Provonsha. Les Rideout watches for illegal holds as Stanley Pasken and Martin Mauthe wrestle.

WINTER SPORT

With the close of the football season, equipment is put away, but work is not over. The boys have a few weeks rest, but soon start in again. Players from the reserve squad and freshmen who aspire to great heights as well-known athletes gather in the little gym every night after school for strenuous workouts. Wrestling, boxing, balancing, tumbling, and setting-up exercises are included in the regular program. Here the boys get really toughened up for the spring football scrimmages. From these boys will come the stars of the gridiron who will be cheered by their fellow students at the football games next fall. Coaches Mollenkopf, Pauly, and Dunn supervise the workouts and get a good idea of what they will have to work with next fall. Let's all hope they find another championship team among these boys who never stop working or trying to do their best for Waite.

MINOR SPORTS



Hank Lepiarz practices bunting.
Jim Reese is listening for the starter's gun to begin the 100-yard dash.
Wayne James and Jack Sanderson show their good form in going over the low hurdles.
Vernon Mongon warms up with a few practice throws.

BASEBALL

Opening with Weston, Ohio, Class B champs, and defeating them in short order, Waite went on to defeat Lambertville, Michigan. Waite lost only three games in the city league, one each to Central, DeVilbiss, and Macomber Vocational. Hank Lepiarz, Ralph Lamson, George Novotany, Vernon Mongon, and Clyde Dexter aided in landing the varsity nine in second place in the city league. Waite was the only city team to defeat Macomber who were 1939 league champions. The 1940 season is well under way and Coach Rohlfing expects to do as well as he did with the 1939 team.

A baseball write-up would not be complete without a few words about Hank Lepiarz. Hank has the distinction of having been on the varsity nine for all four years of high school. Lepiarz could always be counted on for at least one or two hits, unless the cautious opposing pitcher would walk him. As well as being a hitter, Hank's fielding was well above average.

TRACK

Coach Arthur Turby was well satisfied with his 1939 track team. The boys were willing to work, and, as a result, made a good showing in the district meet. Lynch placed second in the mile and McDonall qualified. Reese won second place in the 440, one of the most strenuous events in a track meet. Ueberroth was outstanding in both track and field events all season and added to his laurels by winning first place in both the high jump and pole vault in the district meet.

The 1940 season looks more promising than ever. Ueberroth is back and has added the discus and shot-put to his accomplishments. Baker is also qualifying for the field events, and Siebenaller is going to take care of the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Lynch is a member of the cross-country team and won first place last fall. Track does not draw as many participants as some of the other sports, but those who do go out for track are enthusiastic and never let down in their endeavor to make Waite well-known in this sport.

TENNIS

Waite has a few boys interested in tennis and under the supervision of Coach Moffatt they strive to maintain a place in city competition. Last fall's team broke even in the city league, winning over Libbey and Macomber Vocational and losing to Scott and DeVilbiss. Drake, Long, Littlefield, Passino, and Sterling are among those who have indicated their desire for active participation in this spring's contests.

BOWLING

In almost every phase of athletic activities there are always a few left over from the previous year that serve as a nucleus for the current team. This year's bowling team was different, however, for not one old bowler returned to take an active interest and become one of the group. Ten entirely new members, therefore, comprised the two teams, captained by Steve Werkman and Theodore Daniels. Although they didn't win any cups or laurels, Coach Fred Mathias expresses admiration for their pluck in sticking through the season and has hopes that next year they will really make a name for themselves as Waite bowlers.

Square—Clyde Dexter waits for just the right one so he can connect and send one over the fence.

Instructors Claire Dunn and Wilbur Miller talk over their problems with supervisor Ted Keller.

BOYS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Every boy in Waite has the opportunity of engaging in sports even though he may not qualify for the varsity squad. Under the instruction of Mr. Claire Dunn and Mr. Wilbur Miller the boys are encouraged to participate in football, swimming, basketball, indoor-ball, and track. All these sports are played during class hours but the most rivalry, interest, and competition takes place during the intra-mural games after school. The boys are organized into teams which are gradually eliminated during the tournament. The winning team gains the distinction of being outstanding in that particular sport.

The gym classes also help the underclassmen to make friends informally and to get in the general swing of athletic activities. Besides helping to break the monotony of academic classes, the gym provides a place for the improvement of good sportsmanship, a spirit of coöperation and development of friendliness.

Center picture—Eldar Bushman and Gerhardt Piel get ready for a rope-climbing contest, while Frank Aldrich keeps time and George Lum keeps score.

Lower picture—Two teams are ready for a basketball relay. Team one is composed of Chester Rischman, Alvah Osborn, Joe Szempias, Paul Hrabovsky, Bob Geisel, and Joe Sradeja. The other team is made up of Clinton Longnecker, Rudolph Toth, George Kiroff, Ramon Flores, Steve Snyir, and Albert Burbridge.

Instructors Genevieve Swain and Mary Louise Bowman.

GIRLS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION

A fair face, form and figure are what the active enrollee may expect from nine months in the Girls' Physical Education Department. A short course in health the first year teaches the girls many worth while factors that help them to improve their appearance and develop their personality. The versatile Miss Mary Louise Bowman and the capable Miss Genevieve Swain seek not only to provide physical exercise by means of dodge-ball, pin ball, indoor, and volley ball but also to aid the girls in attaining grace and poise by teaching various types of modern dancing. Swimming may be taken in lieu of gym if the girls so desire. Those who are unable to participate in the more active games perform brain gymnastics with Chinese checkers, dart baseball and others.

The girls' athletic league after school gives the girls an opportunity to perfect themselves in the sport in which they are most interested. Teams are formed after school and regular tournaments take place. These extra-curricular activities are also encouraged and supported by Miss Swain and Miss Bowman.

Lower picture—In the fall hockey holds interest both in the gym classes and in intramural competition. Mary Carlo and Jean Bronson are ready for the bully-off.

Beauty Culture, America's open field of Golden opportunities. No other vocation offers you a more equal chance of success.

With women and girls becoming more "beauty conscious" each day, the demand for trained beauticians far exceeds the present supply.

Your future earnings depend on the profession you choose.

The American Beauty College is prepared to train you for a future in Cosmetology that assures you of financial success. Visit Ohio's most beautiful beauty college and see for yourself. Pay as you learn.

Licensed and approved by the State Board of Cosmetology.

Special rates to graduating class of '40.
